

Sterling Investment Partners Invests in Camp Facility Services, a Restoration, Renovation and Maintenance Services Firm

WESTPORT, Conn. – November 16, 2021 – Sterling Investment Partners (“Sterling”), a leading middle market private equity firm, invested in Camp Facility Services (“Camp” or the “Company”) in partnership with the Company’s founder and CEO, Roger Camp, and other members of management. Headquartered in Houston, Texas, Camp is a leading provider of restoration, renovation and maintenance services to multifamily communities in over 25 states. The Company completes thousands of jobs a year for over 1,200 multifamily customers and utilizes an outsourced subcontractor model, managing thousands of subcontractor relationships. Camp has developed strong relationships with many of the largest national property management companies in the United States.

Roger Camp partnered with Sterling in order to build a national leader that provides restoration, renovation and maintenance services to multifamily communities as well as other adjacent end markets. He stated, “We had an early conversation with Sterling due to the firm’s known facility services expertise. As our relationship continued to develop, Sterling demonstrated that they had an ability to understand key growth opportunities and scale leading facilities services platforms. Sterling itself is a high-energy, entrepreneurial organization, making our personal and cultural fit seamless.”

Managing Partner and Co-Founder Charles Santoro commented, “Roger and his team have a strong desire to take Camp to the next level, and collectively, we have a shared vision for that growth. Camp has an industry-leading reputation for service, integrity and excellence, and has always put the interests of its customers and employees first. We like the large and highly fragmented nature of the industry, which is supported by stable demand characteristics and strong macroeconomic tailwinds, as well as Camp’s strong competitive positioning. We are very excited about our newly-formed partnership with Roger and his team.”
